CAUSED REULAND'S DEATH.

Engineer Gillespie Held Responsible For the Gilmore Wreck.

HE VIOLATED THE RULES.

The First Verdict of the Kind Rendered in This City For Very Many Years.

Who is Responsible? The inquest on the remains of Peter Reu land, who died Wednesday from the injuries sustained in Tuesday evening's railroad accident at Gibson, was held by Coroner Drexel yesterday morning. The jury consisted of P. W. Welsh, Philip Andres, George Medlock, P. McClaren, James Stephenson, E. A. McClure and M. C. T. Gillespie, the engineer on No. 6, the Chicago train, was the first witness called. He testified as follows:

"No. 6 left Omaha at 6:40, which gave us five minutes to run to Gibson, where we were supposed to meet No. 9, the Kansas City train. Was running slow as we approached Gibson, probably twelve or fifteen miles an hour. As we swung into the curve I shut the engine off. I saw a headlight ahead, and then a lantern waving the slow signal. I answered this by two short blasts from the whistle and at once applied the air stronger, in fact, and at once applied the air stronger, in fact, put all I had on, but it didn't seem to take hold and I whistled for brakes. But we couldn't stop her and we went into No. 9, atriking the engine just behind the tanks.

"The air was duly examined before we feft Omaha by the conductor and myself and found all right. After the accident we examined it again and found the stop-cock out at the head of the baggage car. This let the air back into the train and would not hold. It could only have been displaced by somebody on the train or by some one who got on body on the train or by some one who got on between Omaha and Gibson. It was all right when we left this city."

Robert R. Love, brakeman on No. 6, was called next, his testimony amounting to nothing more nor less than a corroboration

J. E. Van Dorn, telegraph operator at Gibion, testified that he had stopped No. 9 to allow and engine to get clear of the track. That No. 9 had stopped a full minute. He also signated No. 6 to slow up, but she didn't to any perceptible extent, and ran into No. 9, as she was swinging into the curve. No. t was going at a speed of twenty miles an lour; No. 5 at ten miles. John M. Barron, conductor of No. 6, testifled substantially the same as the engineer, that owing to a displacement of the stop cock at the head of the baggage car the train could not be controlled. J. S. McCoy, engineer of No. 9, and R. G. Hasha, the fireman, both testified that they came to rull stop were exactly on time, and were signalied to come ahead that the way was clear. Had just got under way and the headlight of No. 6 showed round the corner and the next moment struck No. 9.

B. N. Lover, conductor of No. 9, and Brakeman W. S. Bagley testified to about the same facts.

Adjourned to 2 o'clock.

The jury reassembled and re-examined a couple of witnesses without gaining material evidence, after which it retired. At 4 o'clock the following was rendered: "We, the jury, find that the deceased came to his death through a wreck on the B. & M. railroad at Gioson, on the evening o October 15th, through the carclessness of P. D. Gillespie, the engineer of train No. 6, by not observing the rules of the company." VICTIMS OF THE WRECK.

Engineer Gillispie Will Likely Be Discharged From the Service. Aside from Frank Larue, all the victims of the Burlington wreck, at Gibson, are reported to be convalescing. Several of the commercial travelers was were injured were at headquarters yesterday inquiring after their baggage. In the smashup a number of trunks and sample cases were destroyed to-

No more cases of injuries have been reported aside from those published in The Bee of Wednesday. As to Larue, his condition is somewhat hopeful, but the attending physician states that his case is dangerous.

Charles F. Weller, of the Richardson Drug company, who was also severely injured, was reported to be resting quietly at He will be confined to his Superintendent Thompson, who is investigating the affair, has not as yet taken any action relative to the trainmen, but intimated that Engineer Gillispie, who was or engine No. 6, would be discharged from the employ of the company.

Funeral of Peter Reuland.

The funeral of Peter Reuland, the man who was killed in the B. & M. wreck at Gibson on Tuesday last, will take place from his late residence, the Tremont house, corner of Sixteenth and Burt, this moraing at 8 o'clock, It will be under the auspices of Lodge No. 3, of the Treu Bund. There was considerable trouble in starting the judiciary mill. A call of the docket showed that some of the attorneys in nearly every case set for trial were in Lincoln at tending the supreme court. "I presume we will not be ready for a jury much before the opening of the regular term in November, but there are several motions pending which can be heard in chambers and I will be ready to take some of them up next week. CHANGING TRACKS.

The Consolidation Removing Some of the Surptus Lines.

Yesterday morning the company added trail cars to several of its motors.

The following changes are to be made on the consolidation of the two motor lines No-Vember 1: The Burt street motor line will probably turn north to Cuming street at Thirty-third street and the tracks west of Thirty-third on Burt will be torn up.

The tracks of the old motor system on Pifteenth street from Howard to Leavenworth will be abandoned on account of the steep and dangerous grade between Fifteenth and Sixteenth on Leavenworth. The motor will, instead, run west on Howard to Sixteenth street and south on the tracks of the new motor line to the Sixteenth street and Twenty-fifth street motor line is not yet known. It has not proved a profitable run and will bring in even less money now that there is a better service on Twenty-fourth street parallel with it. The line will either be abandoned or will be made part of a loop with the Thirtieth street line, which extends to the fort.

John D. Howe has been appointed attorney of the consolidated street railway lines as one condition of the deal.

HE IS NOT THE POSTMASTER YET.

An Interview With Congressman Connell-A Clever Forgery-State Board of Transportation-State House Jottings.

LINCOLN BUREAU OF THE OMARA BEE, ) 1020 P STREET, LINCOLN, Neb., Oct. 17.

The fight for the postoffice in this city is still being pushed with vigor by the respective candidates. Congressman Connell, who is still here, patiently hears the claims of each and will act intelligently when the proper time comes. Regarding the rumor that Senators Manderson and Paddock had tendered the office to Editor Gere, and the tender had been accepted, he said to THE BEE representative to-day: "I have positive assurance that such is not the case. There is perfect understanding. I have reason to believe, between myself and the senators regarding the disposition of this office. The senators have no desire or inclination to embarrass me in the disposition of the patronage of this district. At the right time Senators Manderson, Paddock and myself will consider the claims of the several candidates for the Lincoln office, and I think it will be placed where it will do the party the most good. I have no inclina-tion to attempt to place the patronage of this tion to attempt to place the patronage of this office without a thoughtful conference with my confreres. They have rights that I am bound to respect. There will be nothing done with the claimants for the office until some time in December. Final steps will then be taken, and until that time I have nothing definite to say. It is possible that the senators may give the office to Mr. Gere, but as yet I am positive that they have not but as yet I am positive that they have not taken any decisive action, and I believe that the claims of all the candidates will be thoughtfully considered and passed upon but some of them must be disappointed."

Clever Forgery. Judge Stewart heard a peculiar case to day, brought in connection with the settlement of the late J. J. Gillilan's estate. It was brought by a Mrs. Miller, of Roca, to recover on two promissory notes for $1,100. It appears that two notes, one for $1,000 and the other for $100, were given to one Haskins over six years ago, but owing to dis-agreement on the rate of interest they were t orn up and two others given at a later date and negotiated by a nephew of the deceased These notes were for like amounts. How ever, when due, they were paid and taken up. Now two similar notes turn up, and up. Now two similar notes after six years they are presented for ment at the final settlement of the dead man's estate. Cashiers of four of the banks of the city were put upon the stand to-day and they pronounce them very clever for geries. It seems, however, that Mrs. Miller came by them in a regular business transaction, but can not fix upon the author of the forgery.

The State Board of Transportation. The state board of transportation will hold an adjourned meeting to-morrow, Friday. It was suggested that the coal and cattle rate question might come up for revision at that time, but just why it was expected to come up no one seemed to know. These questions were fully considered at the meetings in June, July and August on the Sutherland Manning complaints, and the roads were given notice to appear and show cause why the orders should not be enforced. At the meeting held Tuesday, after all the answers were in, the final order was made and the secretaries ordered to serve copies on the managements of the several reads. To day when asked if these copies had been served the chief clerk said that they had not. He had not yet finished making the copies. then volunteered the information that the question would doubtless come up for revision at the Friday meeting. When asked if any road had asked for a reheaving, he said that they had not. But ne still insisted that the rate question would be likely to be reviewed, notwithstanding the "final" order made Tuesday.

ONE REASON

Why people like to trade in the largest store is because they know, by experience, that such establishments can and do sell on a smaller percentage of profit. Everybody likes to see a big stock. There is no question that we carry the largest stock of Men's Furnishing Goods in the City, and there is no question that we sell everything in that line at much lower prices than other houses. Furnishing Goods marked at the same small percentage of profit as the Clothing, is a feature you will not find outside of our store.

In Hoziery we make the following special offerings: 200 dozen fine all wool seamless socks at 15c, regular price 25c.

English Merino Half Hose, double heels and double too at 20c.

Camels Hair Half Hose, very fine and excellent shades at 25c.
